

Neither "a cantankerous press, an obstinate press [nor] a ubiquitous press" would be possible were it not for the First Amendment defenders standing before it.

For leading the New York Times to publish the Pentagon Papers and to defend that decision before the U.S. Supreme Court; for quarterbacking the successful effort to persuade courts and legislatures to adopt the reporters' privilege; for first organizing the "media bar," and for other countless and tireless efforts in support of Freedom of the Press, the ABA Forum on Communications Law hereby honors

JAMES GOODALE

as a true

"Champion of the First Amendment"

February 7, 2014

Steven Zansberg
Chair, Forum on Communications Law